squote Brand Identity

Built specifically for UK tradespeople who want speed and professionalism without the paperwork hassle. The identity feels like a reliable tool in your van – solid, straightforward, warm, and built to last.

1. Logo System

Primary logo (shown above) – Use on app icon, PDFs, website header, and marketing.

Lock-up variations (icon + wordmark) for different placements.

Icon-only for favicons, app icons, and small spaces.

Monochrome version for dark backgrounds or engraving on merch.

The orange "S" always stays #C8522C – it's the hero colour that screams action and energy.

2. Colour Palette

Warm earth tones that feel like concrete, brick, and hi-vis tape – practical, friendly, never corporate.

- Primary Action Orange — #C8522C (buttons, waveforms, CTAs, accents)
- Terracotta Accent — #AD7144 (secondary highlights, icons)
- Warm Cream / Off-White — #F0F0E8 (backgrounds, cards, PDFs)
- Concrete Grey — #6D6D6D (neutral text, dividers)
- Dark Charcoal — #2C2C2C (headings, body text on light backgrounds)
- Pure White — #FFFFFF (clean spaces, contrasts)

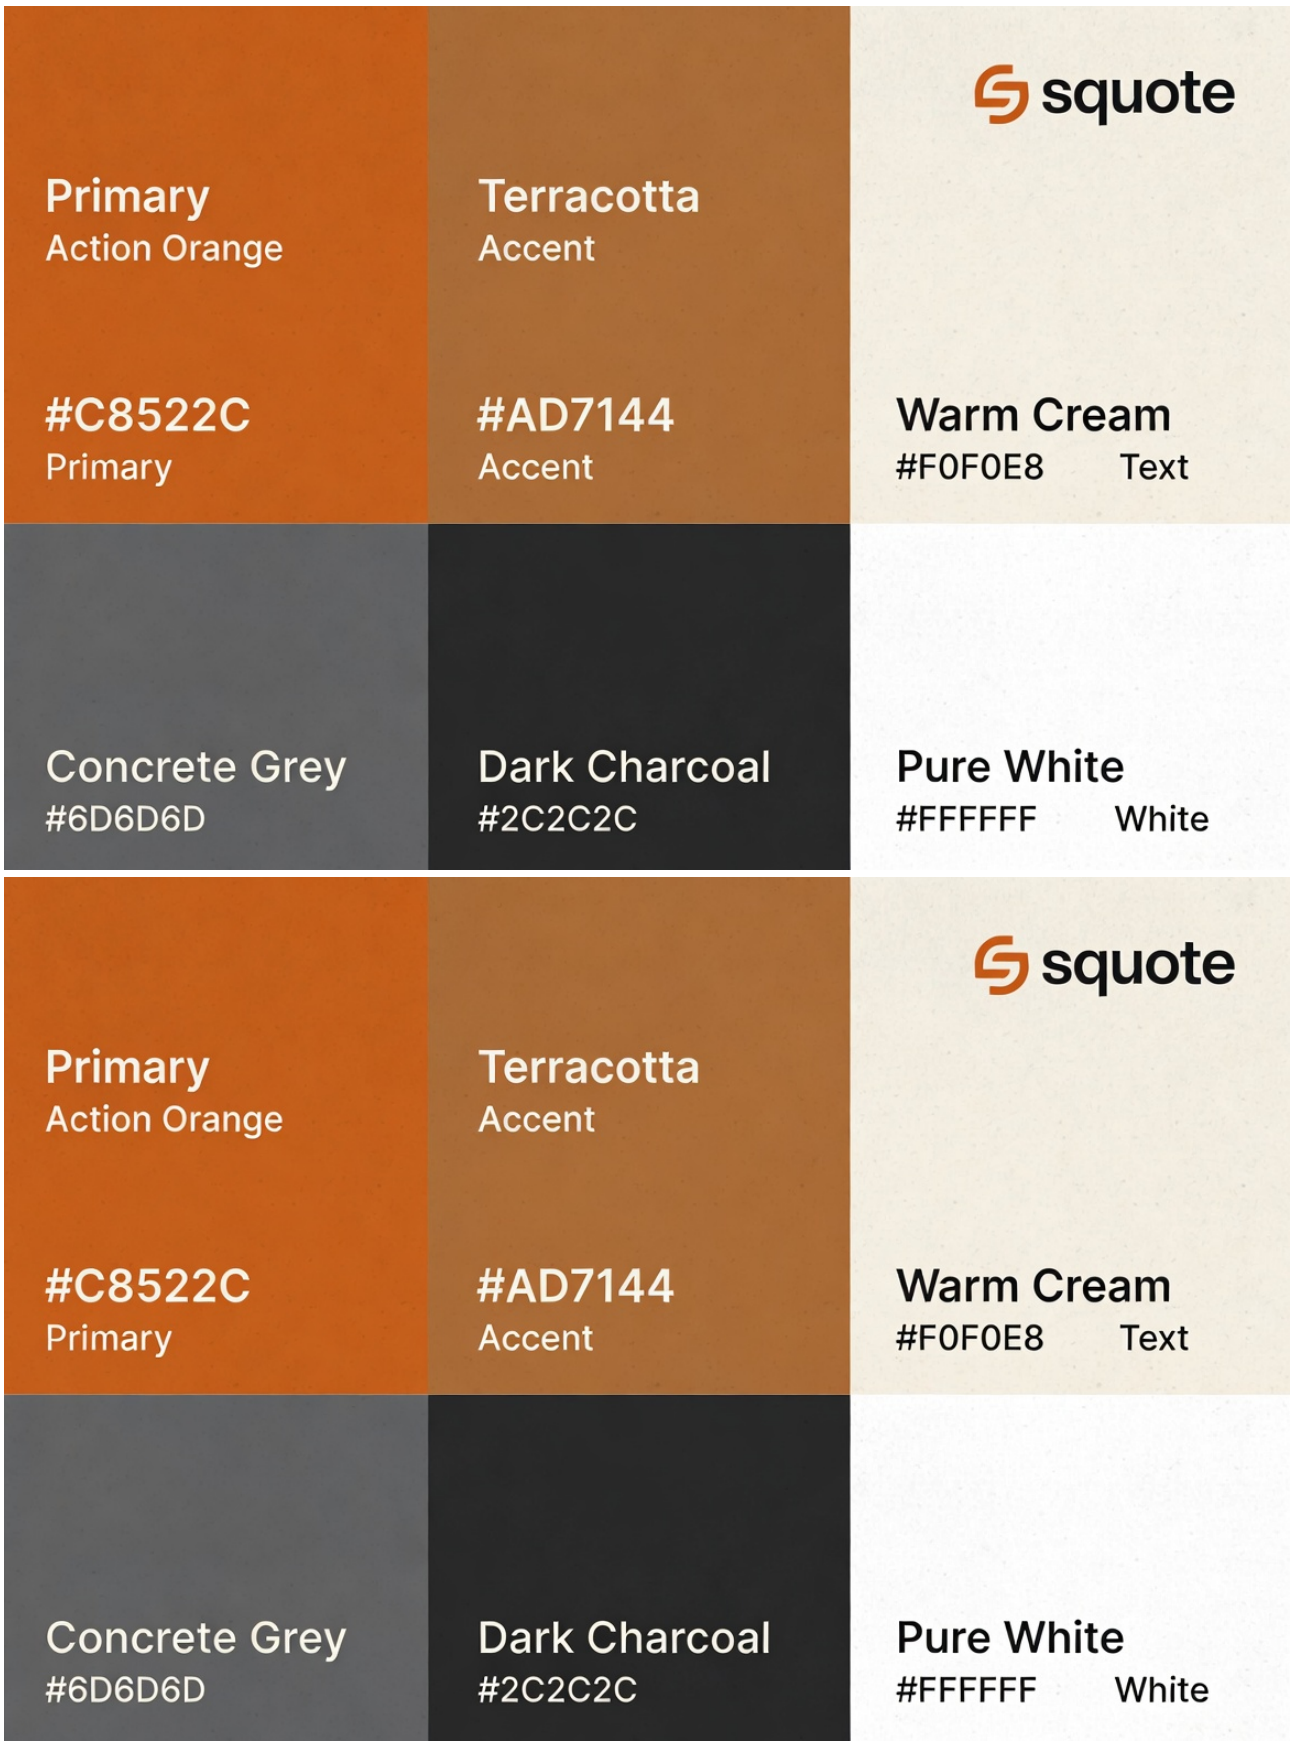
Use orange sparingly but boldly – it's the "tap here" colour that earns its place next to a tape measure.



3. Typography

Practical, readable fonts that work on phones in bright sunlight and on printed quotes.

- Heading font: Montserrat Bold / Semi-Bold (Strong, condensed, confident – perfect for "Voice. Quote. Done." style headlines)
- Body font: Inter Regular / Medium (Clean, highly legible at small sizes – ideal for app screens and PDF body text)
- Accent font (optional for taglines): Space Grotesk Medium (modern, slightly rounded for friendliness)

Never use script or overly decorative fonts – keep it no-nonsense.

4. Iconography Style

- Bold, simple line icons with 2–3 px stroke weight
- Rounded corners (8–12 px) for approachability
- Orange fill for active states, grey for inactive
- Consistent 24–48 px size
- Examples: microphone with waveform, document with checkmark, hard hat, van, tape measure, calendar – all drawn in the same friendly-yet-tough style.

5. How the brand should FEEL everywhere

App

- Large tap targets (tradies wear gloves)
- Orange waveform animations on voice recording screens
- Clean white/cream backgrounds with concrete grey text
- One-tap primary action buttons in #C8522C
- Tone: "Done in 60 seconds, mate."

PDF Quotes & Invoices (sent to customers)

- Header with squote logo + tradesman's name/business
- Clean two-column layout (job description | price)
- Orange accent line under "Total"
- Footer: "Quoted in minutes from site – powered by squote"
- Feels premium but still from a real tradesperson, not a faceless corporation.

Marketing Materials (social, website, ads, the trade cards we've been designing)

- Same warm cream/terracotta palette as the existing cards
- Orange waveforms and PDF icons exactly as before
- Taglines like "Voice. Quote. Done." stay front and centre
- Photos always show real tradespeople on real sites (no stock corporate shots)
- Copy style: short, confident, slightly cheeky British tone – "No more evenings typing quotes. Just talk. We sort the rest."

This identity turns squote into the app that feels like it was built by a tradesperson, not for one. It earns trust instantly because it looks and feels like it belongs in their toolbox.

Want me to generate the full set of logo variations (icon-only, horizontal, dark mode), app screen mockups, a sample PDF quote template, or updated versions of the trade cards with the new squote logo baked in? Just say which assets you need first and I'll render them instantly.
